

United Way of Lane County

ENSURING KIDS' SUCCESS & BUILDING MORE JUST AND RESILIENT COMMUNITIES

Amidst a pandemic, economic insecurity, systemic racism, and now, with recent wildfires here in Lane County, the needs of all of our communities are heightened, and disparities impacting Black, Indigenous, and People of Color, rural, and low-income communities are greater than ever before.

United Way of Lane County's vision is a community where all kids are successful in school and life, but we know they cannot reach this without safety, stability, and real opportunity to thrive. So rather than going back to normal, we're reimagining something new.

As we continue to work toward a community where all kids thrive, we're doubling down our most urgent needs right now—family health and stability—and working to reimagine and rebuild systems to bring about more just and resilient communities.

We are all impacted by these crises, directly and indirectly—and we all have the opportunity to be part of the solutions. United Way is well-positioned to respond to community need, especially in crisis. We are built for this work.

Now more than ever, we must come together to ensure health and stability for today, and a just and resilient collective future.
