WHEN WOMEN LEADERS join together our voices, our vision, and leadership have phenomenal impact. Women & Philanthropy taps into the power, talent, and passion of women leaders to transform our community.

Working ardently in 2007, Women & Philanthropy:

- ~ Hosted two engaging book clubs
- ~ Collected and donated over 240 children's books to rural and low-income kids
- ~ Individually volunteered at the Girls Rule! event in March 2007, a grassroots movement serving more than 250 girls
- ~ Launched WINGS (Women's Initiative Next Generation) to inspire, mentor and foster philanthropy for women 40 years or younger
- ~ Raised over $50,000 for the Women & Philanthropy Fund, which will support the development of the Foster Girls Financial Empowerment pilot project, and
- ~ Presented with Siuslaw Financial Group, the 4th annual Power of the Purse High Tea in October 2007.

Our Mission

To create a powerful leadership network of women who strengthen our community through a focused investment of time, talent and treasure.

“I really enjoyed the book, the discussion, and the chance to meet so many great women! There is something powerful about coming together to share each other’s stories.”

— Mary Bartlett, in reference to the Women & Philanthropy Book Club

A Farewell to WOWC; A Welcome to Mujeres Unidas

After a 3-year partnership with the Domestic Violence Council, Womenspace and the Lane County Commission on Children and Families, it is with a heavy heart that Women & Philanthropy bids farewell to WOWC (Western Oregon Women's Conference). The final year of this beautiful, invigorating event opened the door of inclusion to the Latina community, and it was absolutely amazing to have partnered with Mujeres Unidas. Once again, $15,000 was raised through this gathering to support the work of the Domestic Violence Council to help women and children in our community have safe and successful lives.

Through the power of women, a bridge was built to our Spanish-speaking sisters. The challenges and strengths of all women, regardless of their language and culture, were explored and welcomed at this historic event last October. With a neighboring grant through United Way, Mujeres Unidas continues to meet monthly to build leadership and create a community of support and passion.

Join us for
Women & Philanthropy's 5th Annual Power of the Purse High Tea on October 15, 2008 from 2-5 pm.
